

SSDN Local Infrastructure Hub Regional Cohorts

About the Program

Through the SSDN Local Infrastructure Hub (LIH) Southeast Regional Cohort Program, local governments and community-based organizations (CBOs) are eligible for:

- Expert-led technical assistance to pursue federal funding opportunities
- Direct funding to support CBOs' climate and racial equity work up to $30,000
- Combined technical assistance and funding support for CBOs up to $20,000

Technical Assistance Pathways*

Project Development

Putting your community's priorities to action.

Community & Stakeholder Engagement

Facilitating critical conversations in your community.

Grants Proposal Support

Navigating the process of applying for federal funding.

*Local governments and/or CBOs can choose from one of three options above.

How to Apply

Step 1:

Download your application

Download your application and submit your documents via email to both Nick Deffley (nick@southeastsdn.org) and Krista Early (krista@southeastsdn.org)

(Responses may take up to seven business days.)

Step 2:

Match & sign

Find your Technical Assistance Pathway match and sign a Scope of Work contract.

Step 3:

Report your impact

At the end of your project, share the results of the LIH's support on your community.

Scan the QR code to download your application today!

Having trouble scanning?

Open your phone's camera and place the square code within the camera's view.

Hold still until a pop-up message with the link appears (do not try to take a picture).

Click the pop-up to be directed to our website: www.southeastsdn.org.

Or, share the whole link: www.southeastsdn.org/programs/ssdns-federal-programs/local-infrastructure-hub-cohorts/